

Direct Trade Coffee Program

Food Service Packaged Coffee

Our Story

Established in 1968, the traders of Java Trading have traveled the world, sourcing and forging relationships with farmers that work the land and grow the finest coffee beans. Today, owning its own sustainable farms and mills in Costa Rica and Colombia, Java Trading continues to source new family farms and mills in exotic lands that share the same philosophy of sustainable coffee farming.

Sustainability Practices

Our mills are designed with sustainability as the key objective, including our own hydroelectric generators producing renewable power. We are positive producers of electricity with our hydroelectric generators at our mills in Costa Rica. Terraced coffee groves, defensively planted natural vegetation, and a carefully maintained drainage system all help guard the farm against erosions. We utilize biomass furnaces which eliminates the need to cut wood for fuel.
